

Storyteller at the Senior Center

By Robyn Hatch

Salem Community Patriot

The Senior Center in Salem brought a beautiful storyteller, Joan Day, to speak to the members on January 17. The messages were sweet and brought up many memories of days long gone. Joan also gave the listeners ways to save their memories for future generations.

Joan Day was born and brought up on a dairy farm in Bath, New Hampshire. She moved to Concord in 1960 to attend college. Joan worked for the State of New Hampshire Employment Security in Concord, retiring in 2001 from her work as the agency's Human Resources Administrator. Thinking of Yesterday Today is Joan's second published work. Her first book was Sylvan, The Gift of Unconditional Love.
